"San Francisco Knows How." Natives of San Francisco in Carmel, Orangeville, Texas; Cairo and sitting on top of Mt. Everest, will celebrate the Golden Anniversary of The Fire on April 18. Outsiders, trying to figure out why San Franciscans should celebrate a disaster, come to the conclusion it is because they are proud of their "courage in starting to rebuild their beautiful city before ashes were cold." This, of course, is nonsense. San Franciscans preen themselves on their disaster because it was such a whopper. It put Chicago's in the shade, and Los Angeles never had anything to touch it.

County Gives Our Planning Board The Brush Off

The Carmel Planning Commission, represented by Chairman Frank Putnam and Commissioner George Willox, got the brush off from the County Planning Commission on Tuesday afternoon. Putnam and Willox went to Salinas to speak at the public hearing on the South Carmel Hills subdivision plan presented to the County Planning group by Wright Fisher, of Monterey Peninsula Associates, subdividers of the land.

"What we had to say meant absolutely nothing," stated Putnam yesterday afternoon, "everything was decided beforehand. We were defeated in detail." (An army term for skunked.)

The County Planning Commission accepted the recommendations of their own subdivision committee submitted at the meeting, and completely ignored the recommendations presented to them by the Carmel Planning Commission, suggestions which had taken hours of work and the paid help of Planning Consultant Larry Livingston, Jr.

A letter from the County Planning Commission was received by the Carmel Commission on March 14 asking them to make recommendations on a tentative subdivision map for South Carmel Hills subdivision, which fell within Carmel's three mile zone of influence.

On March 22 the Carmel Commission asked a time extension from the county to permit preparation of recommendations. The County Commission delayed action on Fisher's proposed subdivision until April 10. The Carmel Commission then made a detailed study of the submitted subdivision map; requested the City Council to grant them funds for a report on the subdivision to be made by Livingston. This permission was granted. The report was made. The Carmel Commission framed their recommendations on Monday.

Livingston's report was sent to the County Planning Commission the week preceding Tuesday's public hearing, so that the County subdivision committee might study it. The Carmel Planning Commission's recommendations, based on committee study and Livingston's report, were delivered to the County Planning Commission on Tuesday morning for consideration before the afternoon's public hearing. Putnam and Willox went to the public hearing prepared to discuss Carmel's recommendations, and, according to Putnam, found that remarks they were asked to make at the hearing were "purely perfunctory, everything had been pre-judged."

"The Carmel Planning Commission was defeated," he continued. "A precedent was established which would allow other subdivisions to go in around Carmel with our recommendations ignored. A sorry state when Carmel is in the midst of preparing a Master Plan for Carmel and its environs."

"Time is what we need," was Putnam's statement yesterday afternoon. "Time for the master plan to be prepared for presentation in June. Time for its adoption and time for consideration of each subdivision when plans are submitted to us by the County Planning Commission."

Livingston had stated at the

Civic Clubs Endorse School Bond Issue

The Carmel School Bond issue has been officially endorsed by the following community organizations, following talks by school representatives.

Charles Moody and Kyrk Reid addressed the Rotary Club; Gordon Campbell, Carmel American Legion Post 512; Major R. C. Gibbs, the Carmel Board of Realtors; William Wakefield the Carmel Lions Club; Kyrk Reid, the Carmel Business Association and the Carmel Kiwanis Club. All went on record as officially endorsing the bonds which will be up for the voters approval on April 26.

How Carmel Voted . . .

Over fifty percent of the registered voters in Carmel stamped ballots Tuesday to elect Mayor Horace Lyon, incumbent Francis Whitaker, and new man James Buffington to the city council. Buffington is not a member of the Pine Cone advertising staff as stated Wednesday in the Monterey daily. He is a hotelman and has never had any business connection with this paper. Incumbent Geraldine Smith, coming in fourth, failed of election in spite of a good record as commissioner of health and safety. Old Carmel hands attribute this to her vote to allow the T. V. cable company to bring its transformer boxes above ground. Both Lyon and Whitaker voted no on that issue. The other councilmen who voted yes, John Chitwood and Carl Patnude, will not be up for election until 1958.

The beach proposition won tremendously.

Unopposed, Larry Rose for city clerk and Harry Hilbert for city treasurer received a big, gratifying packet of complimentary votes. In the airport board election, the incumbents were re-elected.

Council will meet Tuesday to count the absentee ballots (35) to seat the new councilmen and apportion the commissions, which are likely to remain the same with Buffington taking over health and safety, the usual fate of a freshman councilman when incumbents are re-elected. Traditionally the new council selects for mayor the candidate who got the greatest number of votes in the election. Carmel voters did their part to retain their mayor, see returns below.

CARMEL NINE BLANKED BY GILROY

Carmel High's varsity baseball team journeyed to Gilroy last Friday for a league tussle with the league-leading Mustangs and found out why the blue and white horsehiders are on top the B-division standings. A rangy control pitcher named Julian Aguilar handcuffed the Padre hitters, setting them down four scratch hits and allowing nary a Padre to cross home plate.

The Mustangs sewed up the game in the first inning as they greeted Padre pitcher, Mike Mosolf, for three runs on three hits, a walk, and a wild pitch. Gilroy picked up run number 4 in the third canto as Ron Leonti singled, stole second, and scored on a fielder's choice. This ended the scoring for the afternoon as both pitchers settled down for a hurling duel and kept the batters helpless.

Both teams played steady ball in the field, the Padres turning in a snappy double play while playing errorless ball and the Mustang infield handled 11 chances without a bobble.

Kyrk Reid was the only Padre able to solve Aguilar's slants for more than one hit, connecting for a pair of singles in three chances. Tim O'Shea and Mike Mosolf picked up bat-handle singles to complete the Carmel hitting.

Carmel treks to Gonzales for a league game Friday afternoon and entertains arch-rival Pacific Grove next Tuesday in another league outing.

TRACK MEET AT CARMEL OVAL SATURDAY MORNING

Carmel High's lightweight and varsity track squads play host to Hollister and Gilroy tracksters this Saturday morning in a league meet starting at 10 o'clock. Carmel has already met and conquered the Gilroy thinclads but the Hollister contingent will offer some severe competition. Traditionally a strong track school, Hollister has started slowly this season and has been building up for the league crucial with the Padres. Hollister and Pacific Grove are the only schools in the B-league with a chance to keep Carmel from winning the track championship. The Padres have already defeated the rest of the B schools and will shoot with their biggest guns against the Haybalers Saturday morning. Carmel meets Pacific Grove next Thursday afternoon at the Pacific Grove track.

Top point-getters for the Carmel heavyweight squad have been Mike Mosolf, Pierre Olivie, Don Petty, Dave Gray, Merv Sutton, Hampton Stewart and Bill McCormack. Lightweights who have been hitting the score column in league meets are Bill Harder, Norman Bykerk, Bert Macahilig, Ronnie Leidig, Bob Forbes and Perry Kneedler.

Gilroy has a strong lightweight team but is thin in the heavyweight ranks, carrying only four athletes on the squad. Top varsity performer is Bob Harrison, all-league football tackle, who is one of the top discus tossers in the league. Big Bob, at 225 pounds, is capable of spinning the platter over the 140-foot mark but he will receive stiff competition from Carmel's Pierre Olivie and Dave Gray.

Hollister's forte is speed in the flat races where the Haybaler football speedsters transfer their talents to track. Coach Bud Pressley has sprinters three deep and has exceptionally good strength in the 880 and high-hurdles.

THE SPORT WHEEL

Play Area Fixed Up For Mission School Athletes—Just south of the Carmel Mission there is about six acres of nice level land which has been crying for a playground and a couple of baseball diamonds for the smaller kids of this area. Last week bulldozers and scrapers answered the call and spruced up the field so that future Mission School athletes will have room to flex their muscles. This appears to be a splendid site for the Little League baseball diamond which Carmel so desperately needs. Mission School athletic committeeman, Bill Woolsey, has planned a track festival at the new field in the near future.

Little Padres Make Good Showing at King City Relays—Although Carmel High was the smallest school competing in the 20-school King City Relays last Saturday, the village athletes did themselves proud by finishing in fifth place behind Watsonville, Salinas, Paso Robles and Santa Maria. Carmel

Hotel Universe Projects Audience To Broader Horizons

By Mary Lindsay-Oliver

Hotel Universe ran in New York more than 25 years ago when the interest in extra-sensory perception was not what it is today, with much scientific investigation, including that of universities such as Duke in the South. Nevertheless, there are many who cannot accept anything but the reality of material existence, and therefore may find this play which opened last week-end at the Circle Theatre, hard to follow (or swallow!) in its dialogue that is symptomatic of a sophisticated but suffering group who have either lost faith in one another or in existence generally. After an exhibition of bickering and confused thinking, set off as the play opens by reference to a friend's suicide, the advent and philosophy of an old scientist who states that "from every end comes a beginning", and who has come to look upon life and the universe as a whole and not just a series of finalities, brings about an awakening. His apparently clairvoyant perception of former existences and relationships stages some strange episodes, one of which relating to himself and Lily, the actress, in a strong emotional scene, acts as a clearing of her consciousness. The scientist, Stephen Field, father of Ann Field, hostess to their house-party on the French Riviera, is played by David Eldridge. The mixed-up thinking and antipathies of the group create a whirl-wind of despair and contemplated suicides, then brought to reason and self-realization by Field's wisdom which includes the esoteric truth that "the soul's life is the only life there is, so the world is peopled with the living and with the dead".

Under the supervising direction of Edward Kuster and immediate direction of Charles Thomas, the whole is cleverly cast and acted, with popular Walter Williams as the rich but desperate Pat Farley "in love with death"; Anne Fry as Lily Malone, the ambitious, frustrated actress; Gertrude Chappell as Ann Field, the more dignified hostess, who, with her father seem to be the only two normal individuals; Warren Finnell as Tom Ames, a somewhat immature husband of Hope (Betty Fowlston) who would rather be home with her children; Lenore Shager as Alice, a sleep-walker; Harvey Hall as Norman Rose, a banker, and Gene Eplett as Felix, who hourly announces the time in somewhat subdued French. Polly Bowhay, Kit Jones, Paul Stuart, Rhoda Johnson, Madeleine Hicks, Church Chappell and Michel McKay, make up the production staff. Difficult as it is to create the necessary illusions in the Circle, the play certainly projects its raison d'etre; and if for no other reason than to get a first acquaintance with such complex situations, all who can should witness it, for its thought-provoking toward broader horizons, since today there is little sense or safety by receding into a personal cave, when our grand hotel is truly the whole universe! The play can be seen week-ends until May 6.

picked up 17 points on fine come-through performances by Don Petty, 3rd in shot-put; Pierre Olivie, 2nd in discus; Dave Gray, 3rd in discus; Mike Mosolf, 2nd in broad jump and 3rd in high jump. Mosolf's 21-6 broad jump set a new school record, breaking the two-year-old record established by Ken Barker. Top performances at the Relays was turned in by King City's own Tom Pettit, who blazed to victories in both the 100 and 220 yard dashes.

Pacific Grove Football Coach Moves Up—People who know Herb Schmalenberger, PG High football and baseball coach, will regret to hear that he is leaving Pacific Grove at the end of the school year, but will most certainly wish him well in his new job as assistant football coach at the California Agricultural College (Davis). Herb leaves an outstanding coaching record at Pacific Grove, winning two football and two baseball championships in his four-year tenure. Good luck, to one of the best in the business.

Silence Is Golden Or Alibis Are Sickening — The best thing a defeated athlete can do is clam up and take it like a man. Question in point. Ken Venturi's Alibi Ike behavior following his near-miss victory in the Masters Golf Tournament at Augusta. American sportsmen by the millions appreciated the splendid effort turned in by Venturi in this great golf tournament and none but the uninformed would criticize him for choking up under the severe pressure inherent in a tournament of this type. But his fine performance is forgotten in a wave of nausea which hits the sporting public when an athlete attempts to alibi a sub-par performance by shunting the blame on tourney officials, his playing partner, starting time, and being lonely in a gallery of fifteen-thousand. The former Fort Ord soldier was not only sub-par in his final round of golf he was also sub-par in his post-tournament comments.

GIRL SCOUTS SAY THANKS

The Monterey Peninsula Girl Scout Council would like to thank those who bought cookies in the recent Girl Scout Cookie Sale, making it the most successful in the history of the annual project, according to Mrs. Walter Burde, president.

Mrs. Gordon K. Reid was peninsula chairman, and, helping her in Carmel, were Mrs. E. M. Stein, Mrs. John Farr, Mrs. Arthur Wise, Mrs. Ted Fehring, Mrs. F. Robert Smith, Mrs. John M. Miller, Mrs. E. E. Cole, Mrs. James Buffington, Mrs. Maurice Stoney, Mrs. Margaret Phelps, Mrs. Gordon Campbell, Mrs. Thomas Elston, Mrs. Dudley Swim, Mrs. Maynard Peterson, Mrs. Willis Shepard and Mrs. George Leutzinger, who all handled pick-up stations, transportation, deliveries and collections.

Mrs. Burde would like to commend also the Girl Scouts who spent hours selling cookies. This year was the first time the goal set was realized. The money raised goes to cover the cost of the year-round outdoor Scout program and to supplement money received from the Community Chest for operating expenses.

Coffee For Dr. Rosenfeld

Mrs. Margaret Ryan and Mrs. Paul Thomas entertained in honor of Dr. and Mrs. Herbert Rosenfeld on Sunday afternoon at a coffee held in the garden of Mrs. Thomas' home on Josselyn Canyon Road. Both the hostesses are students in Dr. Rosenfeld's evening German class at Monterey Peninsula College and they invited the rest of the class to coffee and cake with their teacher. Conversation at the party was gaily carried on in Italian, Portuguese, German and "a little English", against a musical background of Strauss waltzes played on the phonograph.

Meet the Bennetts who set up housekeeping in Santa Rosa in 1936

20 YEARS AGO—when Duane and Eileen Bennett were married, they had 6 appliances: stove, hot plate, water heater, toaster, iron, radio.

TODAY—their inviting home boasts 25 appliances: range, refrigerator, freezer, washing machine, dryer, toaster, mixer, waffle iron, deep fryer, 2 electric exhaust fans, garbage disposer, electric clock, 2 TV sets, 2 irons, sewing machine, vacuum cleaner, electric blanket, hair dryer, electric heater, 2 water heaters, furnace.

Today they buy $19 worth of gas and electricity for $15

...for the average unit cost is far less than it was in 1936

Most Californians — like the Bennetts — own many more appliances today than twenty years ago. And all these extra appliances use additional gas and electricity. Fact is, if you're like the average California family, you're using three times as much gas and electricity these days!

As a result, your bill may be higher. But it's far lower than it would have been 20 years ago.

That's because P. G. and E. now charges far less per unit of gas and electricity. Proof? A month or so ago, the Bennetts' bill was $14.79. In 1936 the same amount of gas and electricity would have cost them $19.19. You're probably making similar savings yourself.

Can you think of any other prices that are lower today than 20 years ago? No wonder we say ...

To The Editor

$950. We have a very capable chief of police as you know, and a splendid but limited staff of police officers; but we have presented to our police department a problem of catching the traffic speeder, which is almost impossible for the traffic policemen to cope with, and for one simple reason—namely so very many narrow streets.

Due to the many narrow streets, and the great many blind corners, and the lack of sidewalks for pedestrians in many areas, we have a peculiar but critical traffic problem. Now the majority of us who are residents of Carmel are desirous of maintaining this rustic quality of our community, but by that very fact we owe an obligation to motorists and pedestrians alike to curb the 5% to 10% of the traffic speeders.

Last year I served on the Traffic Safety Committee with the Parent Teachers Association, at which time we were mainly interested in the safety of school children going to and from the River School. But we were likewise aware of and aided somewhat the safety of children going to and from the Mission School. Recently I was asked by Mrs. Dexter Whitcomb, chairman of the PTA Traffic Safety Committee, to represent her in the studies with respect to the traffic situation on Junipero, and the problem of the 25 to 30 school children walking from the area east of Junipero to and from the Sunset School. This committee of residents after a rather careful study, did recommend to the committee of the city council that stop signs be placed at Eighth Ave. and Tenth Ave. and reasonable crossing protection for pedestrians at those two points. Due to the very narrow nature of the street on Eighth Avenue between Junipero and Torres, we urged that a path be cut on the south side to avoid having children become trapped by two cars passing. We did abandon the request for the path through from Torres to the Sunset School at the specific request of the Chief of Police. But again the real problem is the speeder going north and south on Junipero. People are speeding on San Antonio, along Santa Lucia and as you well know we are not providing school buses for the school children within the city limits of Carmel. It is intelligent to expect our school children to learn to protect themselves against traffic hazards, but we owe it to them by the same token to protect them from the reckless speeder.

By the placing of signs at all entrances to the City of Carmel that we have traffic control by radar, we will by that very fact reduce the problem considerably. After an educational campaign, there need not be continuous use of this control. Carmel does not have to become known as a place for the tourist to avoid because of too strict use of such a radar traffic control. Its intelligent use however, will not only benefit our citizens, but will likewise benefit our many tourists.

If you agree with me in this need, it will be greatly helpful to educate all of the readers of the Pine Cone.

Cordially,
J. F. Mackenzie.

Editor's Note: We do agree and hope the new council will authorize the purchase immediately. The danger is very serious and there appears to be no other means of control. —W. C.

Elizabeth Stevens

Elizabeth Upham Stevens died in a local rest home on April 5 after an illness of several months. She had been a resident of Carmel for 13 years, living on Lincoln Street between Fifth and Sixth Streets.

Mrs. Stevens was particularly interested in the theater and will be remembered here for her work in the title role of the Madwoman of Chaillot at the Wharf Theater and in Arsenic and Old Lace at the Golden Bough, as well as parts which she took in other peninsula productions.

She was born in Newtonville, Massachusetts, on September 7, 1887, a direct descendant of Oliver Wendell Holmes. Her husband, the late Milton Stevens, died in 1925.

Before moving to Carmel, Mrs. Stevens had lived in Santa Barbara, where she had her own little theater in Montecito, and appeared in Labero Theater productions.

Survivors are her daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Miller of Carmel and three grandchildren, Mary Diane Osborne of San Francisco; Cynthia Osborne of Carmel and Thomas Moore Miller, Jr., of Carmel.

Private funeral services were held for Mrs. Stevens on April 6 in the Dorney and Farlinger Chapel followed by inurnment in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea in Pacific Grove.

Patrick Riley

Patrick Morgan Riley, 19, only son of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Riley of Point Lobos, was killed in an automobile accident near Soledad early Monday morning. He was returning to California Polytechnic Institute in San Luis Obispo, where he was a sophomore student, when the accident occurred.

Pat was born in Carmel on October 4, 1936, member of a pioneer county family. He attended Bay School, built on land donated by his grandfather, A. M. Allan, who developed ranching property at Point Lobos, part of which is now State Park. After leaving Bay, Pat went to Monterey Union High School, and, following graduation, entered California Polytechnic Institute where he was studying animal husbandry. He was particularly interested in ranching, having grown up on his parents' dairy ranch at Point Lobos, and loved hunting, fishing and outdoor life.

Pat was a member of the Carmel Valley 4-H Club and exhibited livestock, which he had raised under the club's program, at the Monterey County Fair. He was also a member of Carmel Troop 86, Boy Scouts of America, and had served as assistant scoutmaster. He was a volunteer member of the Carmel Highlands Fire Department.

Survivors, besides his parents, are two sisters, Mrs. Robert Wilson of Carmel Valley and Mrs. Francis Whisler of San Francisco; two aunts, Mrs. L. J. Hudson of Point Lobos and Mrs. Julian Burnette of Los Altos; and a number of cousins.

Private funeral services were held on Wednesday afternoon in the Paul Funeral Chapel with the Reverend Russell Gregg Bisnett of the First Presbyterian Church of Monterey officiating. Burial followed in the family plot in Cemeterio El Encinal, Monterey.

Friends wishing to make contributions in Pat's memory may do so in the form of donations to the Ashley Morse Trust Fund, a camping fund for Carmel Boy Scouts. The contributions may be sent to Mark Raggett, Box QQ, Carmel.

Richard A. Boolootian will give a talk on the Habits and Behavior of Sea Otters in the Lecture Room of the U.S. Naval Postgraduate School at 8:00 o'clock on the evening of April 19. He will also show his moving pictures of sea otters and whales, made in color and taken from a helicopter. The otter pictures are considered the best ever made of these sea creatures, now currently feeding off Carmel Point.

The talk is open to the public and is being sponsored by the Sigma Xi, honorary scientific society, of the school.

Boolootian is a Research Assistant at the Hopkins Marine Station.

Fanny Stedman

Mrs. Fanny Marcia Stedman died on Saturday morning following a brief illness. She was born on April 20, 1865, in Cincinnati, Ohio, and next week would have been 92 years old.

Mrs. Stedman came to live in Carmel 20 years ago with her husband, the late Arthur Stedman, who died on January 25 of this year. They occupied, during their Carmel residence, the home which they built on Carmel Point at Scenic Drive and Carmelo Street.

Survivors are a daughter, Mrs. Helen Brooks of San Francisco; two sons, James H. and Marcus Stedman of Palo Alto; and eight grandchildren.

Private funeral services were held on Monday in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea Crematorium. Paul's Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

Civilizing Influence . . .

By HARRIET KEEN ROBERTS

These are times of ever-increasing anxiety. The Cold War has been followed by threats from the Middle East, the Far East, from North Africa, from Cyprus. The civilian of good will cannot help but see, no matter how unwillingly and out of the corner of his eye, as it were, that dark shadow of the world's power to destroy itself. What can be done by the ordinary man and woman to prevent that tragedy? How can we seek peace and ensure it? How can we help the understanding between nations which must be the foundation of any lasting peace?

We on the Monterey Peninsula have already unusual opportunities for that understanding. In the teachers at The Army Language School and the Naval Postgraduate School we may meet representatives of many nations; they have already enriched our cultural life in so many ways, in our churches, in all the arts. But their pupils must, of necessity, be soldiers or sailors. What is the civilian to do?

Last year saw the beginning of The Monterey Institute for Foreign Studies, where students, teachers, journalists, men and women who need foreign languages in their business and who need, as we all do, greater knowledge of other nations, can begin to achieve these ends in a summer seminar.

The Institute's first brochure stated its aims as follows: "At no time in our history was a cognizance of foreign tongues, customs and ways more necessary than it is today. We cannot afford to have a superficial knowledge nor to cherish erroneous beliefs. Nor, as so often happens, can we look at others and see them as we see ourselves, appreciating them only when they conform to our own standards. How may this emergency be met on our part? By a rational and unprejudiced study of civilization in general and in particular. A civilization cannot be thoroughly comprehended, in all its important ramifications, without knowledge of the language which is the expression of its spirit. Similarly, a language cannot be mastered without knowledge of the civilization which moulded its forms. Hence the study of languages and civilizations should be combined."

It seems hardly possible that, in a single year, the Institute should have more than doubled its scope, but so it is. The civilization, history and literature of Italy and Spain, taught in the appropriate language by natives of those countries, will be added to last year's French and German courses for both advanced students and beginners. And the courses in social studies will be greatly increased. They will now include a History of Diplomacy, from the 17th century to the present time, given in both French and English. There will be courses, in English, in International Trade, with a survey of the great trends in world commerce, with a study of the economic geography of a country or of a specific region of a country. Studies, also in English, of comparative governments will include the modern political institutions of France, Great Britain, Germany, Spain, Italy, Switzerland and the USSR. Supra-national movements, such as Communism, will be studied, as well as Nationalism.

The Institute believes that no present study of world affairs can be made without a thorough knowledge of religion. Man is a religious creature and his religion is the core of his civilization. Lectures will be given by qualified instructors on The Holy See, The World Council of Churches, the Jewish Faith Groups and the Mohammedan Faith Groups. These lectures will be open to the public for a small charge. Father John T. Curran, S.J., Pontifical Institute Biblical Professor of Alma College, will lecture on the Holy See. Thomas Ewing, M.A. of Princeton and also a graduate of Occidental College, will speak on the World Council of Churches. Rabbi Abraham Haselkorn, from New York University, will talk about the Jewish Faith Groups. (Rabbi Haselkorn was a chaplain in the U.S. Army from 1942 to 1946.) The Mohammedan Faith Groups will be dealt with by Kamil T. Said, M.A. of Beirut University and Chairman of the Arabic Language Department at the Army Language School.

Mrs. Sybil Bolitho Fearnley, graduate of the University of Berlin, will again be in charge of the German Department, and Professor Gaspard Weiss, graduate of the Universities of Paris and Lausanne will again have the French Department, both of which were so successful last year. Mme. Louise Weiss, graduate of the University of Nancy, will assist with French. Mme. Weiss taught in Paris both before and after World War II and has also taught at Capitol University in Columbus, Ohio.

The Italian Department will be in charge of Sr. Peter G. Gemmo, Doctor in Foreign Languages, who was employed by the U.S. at NATO as a translator, and has, as a journalist, written for many Italian papers. He is now Associate in Italian at the University of California at Berkeley.

Senor Enrique De Rivas will conduct the classes in Spanish. Born in Madrid, he has now a Graduate Fellowship at U. of C., where he is also Assistant in Research. He is the son of the famous Spanish playwright, Rivas Cheris.

La Forest E. Phillips, B.A. of Stanford University will have classes, in English, in Comparative Government.

International Economics will be taught by an eminent economist and distinguished professor who has had great practical experience in international social service. His name will be announced later. His lectures will be in English and will be open to the public.

The Seminar will begin July 9 and continue until August 17. All classes and lectures will be held at Logan Hall on Van Buren Street, near Franklin, in Monterey. The hall, once the old Monterey Library, has been made available to the Institute by the First Presbyterian Church of Monterey.

Though all the courses are primarily intended for undergraduate and graduate students and teachers, anyone interested may join any of the classes, paying only a proportionate part of the fee for the whole course. Anyone who wishes for information about the Institute or to join any of the classes may write to The Monterey Institute for Foreign Studies, P.O. Box 1522, Monterey, or telephone to 2-3560.

All who sympathize with what Dr. Remsen DuBois Bird calls the Institute's "important and civilizing influence" are asked to become members of the "Friends of the Institute" by writing to P.O. Box 1522, Monterey, or by telephoning to Lady Kinnoull, its chairman, at 7-6684. "Friends" can contribute any sum from $10, to be used for scholarships for promising students who lack means for the full course. But no financial contribution is necessary to be a Friend, sympathy and co-operation and the telling of the good news is also desirable and desired. Dr. Bird, Lady Kinnoull, Dwight Morrow, Jr. and Dr. Geoffroy Atkinson, Professor of Romance Languages at Amherst College are among the Institute's many sponsors.

I am not forgetting the admirable work for international understanding which is being done by the World Affairs Council, whose Tenth Annual Conference takes place at Asilomar tomorrow, Saturday and Sunday. But the Council is not engaged with students or the teaching of languages.

Many letters have been received from last year's students telling how the Institute's method of combining the cultural background with the language has been of the greatest help to them. The Institute is fully accredited to St. Mary's College.

It seems to me truly good news that this local effort toward peace and understanding between the nations has made so promising a start. It rests now with us all to see that we help its progress to the best of our ability.

EXPERIENCE

I shall not look again upon the moon;
It is a languor and a vain desire,
The heart is chilled before its silver fire
And all of life is late or gone too soon.

But I shall look on storm; the driving steel
Of rain shall batter and shall comfort me;
And I shall take, in great humility,
The wound of moonlight for the wind to heal.

—GILEAN DOUGLAS.

WATER-COLOR

A span of bridge, coral red,
Clasping together two shores.
Winds play through the cables
As if it were some monstrous Chinese harp.
A green island, and fishing boats
On a wrinkled pale-blue sea.

Far away to westward
Glowing in the sun
The city of St. Francis
Dreaming by the shore—
A miniature carved in ivory.

—PAMELA CLOUGH.

DEBTOR

I have an eight-room home and lot
And other houses that I let,
All paid for, with a car and yacht,
But I am never out of debt.

I treasure countless nodding flowers,
A crimson fringe on the hem of day,
And a coronal of luminous hours
For which I cannot hope to pay.

The madrigals of April birds,
Stars, and the moon's thin silver edge,
Leaf-speech and water's tumbling words,
Are mine for neither price nor pledge.

I owe no man a penny or scrap,
But I can never reimburse
Beauty for wealth poured in my lap
Out of a cornucopian purse.

LORI PETRI.

FROM A LIBRARIAN'S NOTEBOOK

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg

Business is booming at your library. Just for fun, we added up the circulation for the past twelve months, which didn't prove anything because it was just twelve months, not a fiscal year or a calendar year, or anything. But anyway, we circulated 123,058 books, which is a lot of books.

There still seem to be people who do not know that they can call the library and renew their books by telephone. That is, provided the books are renewable. Seven-day books and those with waiting lists may not be renewed. We would much rather renew your books than charge you a fine. Most librarians hate fines. It's the patrons who don't seem to mind them. Keeping books overdue is a mental habit, or the lack of one. The same people do it over and over again. Why not make a mental note to call up and renew those just-due books and save yourself the magnificent sum of two cents a day?

This week we have a book on the Japanese artist Hokusai, which was written by Jack Hillier, and published in England. The artist died in 1849, but the beauty of his work is as fresh today as it was in his own time. Text and plates are arranged chronologically, and 18 of the plates are in color. Another book for the artistic is Italian Painting, the Renaissance, published by Skira. This is a big beautiful book which circulates by examination and special permission. So if you want to take it home, be prepared to have it examined before and after taking.

Speaking next of novels, we have a new summer-reading sort of thing by Elizabeth Yates which is entitled The Carey Girl. It has a sweet story and a slightly concealed lesson for the reader. For lovers of the western story, we have a new one by Wayne Overholser entitled, Cast a Long Shadow. Another novel, of early Nebraska, is by Mari Sandoz and is entitled Miss Morissa, Doctor of the Gold Trail. To this librarian the title seems weak, but Miss Sandoz writes well, and the story should be interesting for it is that of a woman doctor in the homesteading days of Nebraska. A war novel which packs a punch is Squadron Airborne, by Elleston Trevor. The characters are Spitfire pilots during the most critical hours of the Battle of Britain. The last novel for this week is When I Was a Child, by Vilhelm Moberg, which was translated by Gustaf Lannestock, of Carmel.

Do you know your rights under the Constitution of the United States? A new book by Bruce Allan Findley tells you of your rights, through the use of both text and picture, in a book called Guaranteed for Life. Because of its simplicity of presentation, this book might be valuable as a text for naturalization classes. Also in the field of public affairs is a new book by John Flynn which he has called The Decline of the American Republic. Mr. Flynn believes that originally the states had great power, and a strong federal government was impossible, but that since 1933 a powerful central government has been built up which is usurping the original powers delegated to the several states.

On the faculty of the Army Language School in Monterey is Kyung Cho Chung, whose new book is entitled Korea Tomorrow. It is a history of Korea, and a discussion of Korea's social customs, religion, language and literature, and economic structure. This is a sampling of new books for this week. There are more.

Nancie Veit Bride

Nancie, daughter of Mrs. Howard Veit and the late Mr. Veit, was married on Saturday morning to Thomas F. Fitzpatrick. The ceremony, performed by Monsignor Michael D. O'Connell, took place in Carmel Mission which was beautifully decorated with arrangements of white stock and snapdragons and the pews marked with bunches of white stock tied with white satin ribbons.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Howard Veit, Jr., and wore a white floor length gown made with a lace bodice and bouffant silk net skirt. The square neckline of the bodice was embroidered with sequins and pearls. Similar embroidery decorated the matching lace crown which held her fingertip illusion net veil in place and she carried a bouquet of white orchids.

Deborah Kneedler was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Elizabeth Bacon, Jane Bond and the bride's sister, Patricia Veit. All wore white organdy dresses embroidered in yellow and trimmed with yellow satin bows with long streamers. The maid of honor carried a cascade arrangement of white and yellow tulips and the bridesmaids bouquets of yellow tulips.

Marjorie Bennett, young cousin of the bride, as flower girl, wore a white organdy frock trimmed in yellow with a crown of yellow rosebuds in her hair and a matching nosegay bouquet.

Best man was the groom's brother, William V. Fitzpatrick of New Rochelle, New York, and the ushers were Henry Ryan and Lawrence Collins of Larchmont, New York, and Joseph Leichtweis of Harrison, New York.

The reception following the wedding was held in the terrace room at La Playa Hotel where the bride's table and those for the guests were decorated with sprays of peach blossom and calla lilies. Yellow tulips were also used with the blossoms on the bride's table and pots of white and yellow chrysanthemums centered the smaller guest tables.

Mrs. Veit attended the wedding and assisted her daughter in receiving the guests wearing a rose beige taffeta dress with pink hat and accessories and a pink cymbidium corsage.

After the reception the bride and groom left by car for a honeymoon trip which will take them to Yosemite and then on to their new home in New Rochelle, New York. For travelling Nancie wore a navy blue coat dress with white linen touches and a white hat, a tweed coat and a corsage of white orchids.

Out of town guests included the bride's maternal grandmother, Mrs. John Bennett of New York; her aunts and uncles, Mr. and Mrs. John Addison Bennett of New Rochelle and Mr. and Mrs. John E. Schadt of Arcadia; James Moore and William McDonald of New Rochelle and the bridegroom's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Sinnott of New Rochelle.

Fellowship Women's "Brunch"

May Fellowship Day will be observed by the United Church Women of the Peninsula on Friday, May 4, with a meeting and "brunch" at Ocean View Baptist Church at Pacific and Cedar Streets in Seaside. The hour is 10:30, and all women interested in promoting religious activities in the area are invited to attend. Reservations must be made with the representative of one of the women's organizations of the cooperating churches, details to be announced later.

Theme for the day is "Who forms your opinion?" and the program will be built around this question. Mrs. Arthur Marshall of Pacific Grove is chairman for the program, and Mrs. C. A. Borchers of Carmel Valley is president of the local U.C.W. Around fifteen local women's church organizations are affiliated in the organization, which is a branch of National United Church Women. This day is being observed throughout the country by the women.

Next week the official board of U.C.W. for Northern California and Nevada will hold an open meeting at the Presbyterian Church in Napa which any interested women may attend. Representing the Monterey peninsula will be Mrs. R. O. Hazelrigg of Seaside, who last year was president of the local U.C.W. and now has that office in the San Jose District U.C.W.

Virginia and Remo Scardigli leave on Tuesday from Monterey Airport for a tour of Mexico. They are flying with a friend in his plane, and, with many stops on the way, plan to go as far south as Oaxaca in the tropics. They will visit Acapulco and follow the coast northward till they reach the Gulf of California. After crossing the gulf they will follow the western coastline back to the United States. Virginia designs and makes jewelry and the trip is planned so that she may see as much Mexican jewelry work as possible and also visit localities where she may obtain materials, such as opals, to be used in her work when she returns.

Theresia's Little Swiss Cafe Opens This Week End

Carmel's newest foreign restaurant opens this weekend on Sixth Street near Dolores. It is Theresia's Little Swiss Cafe, owned and operated by Theresia and Max Moser, former residents of Zurich, Switzerland. Mr. and Mrs. Moser, proprietors of a fur shop in their native Zurich, visited the United States in 1952, and were so entirely captivated by America they returned to Switzerland, sold their business, and returned here in May, 1955, as permanent residents.

They spent seven months at Malibu Beach and visited Laguna Beach, La Jolla and Carmel, and some months ago they moved here permanently. Theresia Moser's skill as a cook suggested the opening of a restaurant.

Theresia's Little Swiss Cafe will be open from 9:30 to 5:00 o'clock, serving Swiss style breakfasts, luncheon, tea, pastries and such typical Swiss beverages as Cafe Melange (coffee with whipped cream); Cafe Espresso (very strong Italian coffee); Heisse Chocolate mit Schlagrahm (hot chocolate with whipped cream); Cafe au Lait, Cafe Cream, and Swiss style canapes, pastries, luncheon plates and a special fruit pie.

Theresia and Max Moser have redecorated the interior of the premises in pale pink and grey, and a handsomely equipped modern kitchen has been installed in the rear of the restaurant.

Theresia says, "We are not in a hurry, we don't want our guests to be in a hurry. We'd like them to drop in, rest, enjoy a Swiss coffee or chocolate drink, and take their time to chat, relax and enjoy themselves."

The Moser's only child, a daughter Ada, is the wife of Adolph Tuescher, a young Swiss sent by the automobile body manufacturing plant which employs him in Zurich, to the U.S. in 1952. The young Tueschers persuaded Ada's father and mother to accompany them and it was during this tour of American national parks, New York and California, that Theresia and Max decided to change countries. "We find Carmel very international in atmosphere," says Mrs. Moser, "it has a true European flavor, gained from its many foreign residents."

Book Section Meeting

Captain and Mrs. E. M. Block of the Navy Line School will discuss Views of Turkey at the book section meeting of the Carmel Woman's Club on Monday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock.

Captain Block was Naval Air Attache in Turkey for two years and had many opportunities to photograph and study the people of the country.

The meeting is open to the public. Mrs. Sinclair McClellan is chairman of the book section.

Morses Cruise

Mr. and Mrs. S. F. B. Morse left on Monday by plane for New York and on Saturday will sail on the Independence for Naples. After a brief stay in Rome they will go to Athens where their yacht Vileehi is waiting to take them on a cruise of the Dalmatian coast. They will return to Venice early in June and motor through the Italian hill country before boarding the Constitution in Genoa for the trip back to the United States. They plan to be here again early in July.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

The scientific unity of God and man, as taught by Christ Jesus, will be set forth at Christian Science services Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Doctrine of Atonement" is the Golden Text from John (3:17): "God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved."

The following passage will be among those read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Atonement is the exemplification of man's unity with God, whereby man reflects divine Truth, Life, and Love. Jesus of Nazareth taught and demonstrated man's oneness with the Father, and for this we owe him endless homage" (18:1-5).

Readings from the Bible will include the following (Luke 1:68): "Blessed be the Lord God of Israel; for he hath visited and redeemed his people."

County Gives Our Planning Board The Brush Off

Carmel Planning Commission's special meeting on Monday concerning their recommendations, "One large property holder came to me with subdivision plans under his arm, and, if these subdivisions are developed and the houses occupied, the present population of Carmel will be doubled. I mean 5,000 people will be living there."

Prime recommendation of the Carmel Planning Commission to the County group on Tuesday was enlargement of lot size in the proposed South Carmel Hills subdivision to a lot average of 10,000 square feet. They wished the 61 proposed lots to be made into 41 larger lots with better consideration of topography and orientation and relation to the already developed Carmel Hills tract to the north. They wished to "see accomplished an acceptable continuity of development and values, and to favor a pattern of low population density compatible with the welfare of Carmel and its environs."

Wright Fisher told the County Planning Commission that larger lots of 10,000 square feet would be uneconomical and the County Planning Commissioners agreed with him.

Livingston in his report on South Carmel Hills had pointed out that under the County Zoning Ordinance "the minimum required sideyard is only six feet, which means that houses can be placed 12 feet apart. On narrow lots (such as in South Carmel Hills) houses will have to be built relatively close together and will probably appear to be even closer than 12 feet because of the current practice of building broad roof overhangs. Since a two and a half foot extension into a required setback is permitted under the County zoning ordinance, roofs can be only seven feet apart. Visually the result would be something like a metropolitan suburban tract development. Such low standards would tend to depress property values in the adjoining Carmel Hills subdivision as well as being inharmonious with existing development in the surrounding portions of the Carmel Planning area." The Carmel Commission asked that side yard setbacks be changed to ten percent of the total lot width. They were ignored.

Carmel's Commission recommendations on narrower streets for South Carmel Hills was also disregarded. They had thought the narrower width would not interfere with the travelled way but give greater opportunity for planting by separate property owners.

The County Planning Commission did agree with the Carmel Commission that trees should be planted along Highway I to shield the subdivision from view, and that existing ornamental trees be retained. The County is willing to consider the Carmel recommendation that utility lines, located above ground, be as inconspicuously placed as possible. The County did not think that Carmel Commission's idea of trees in the center of each cul de sac turnaround was good.

When further discussion from the public seemed imminent, County Commissioner Don Colgrove stated that time enough had been spent on the matter and that other business was before the commission. A vote was taken. The tentative subdivision map for South Carmel Hills as submitted by Wright Fisher was approved. Chairman Putnam and Commissioner Willox left feeling well brushed off.

TO DEMONSTRATE ETCHING

Howard Brown will explain and show etching and drypoint methods at the Carmel School of Art in the Carmel Craft Studios on Monday evening at 8:00 o'clock.

Brown is a resident of Monterey. He studied at the Chicago Art Institute, but is a self-taught etcher. He has exhibited in international shows and is a member of the Chicago Society of Etchers.

The Carmel School of Art has an etching press and urges any interested persons to come to Brown's talk. There are few artists actively engaged in this branch of work. Brown is due to leave shortly for Panama for duty with the Army in Panamerican School in the Canal Zone.
